Misses Edith and Effie Duke, of near Hartford, have arrived home to spend the summer vacation. Miss Edith taught during the past year near Adairville and Miss Effie at Hazard, Ky.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Riggs, living near Heflin, Ky., died early Monday morning of convulsions. Its illness was of short duration. Burial was at Woodward's Valley cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee Simmerman attended the commencement exercises of the Ward-Belmont College, Nashville, Tenn., last week. Their daughter, Miss Winnie D., was one of the graduates. The three returned home Thursday.

Circuit Court Clerk A. C. Porter has brought his mother to town from Heflin and they have rented and moved into the R. T. Collins property on Union street and Mr. Collins has moved into the Baptist church parsonage property.

Messrs. J. W. Ford, W. H. Moore, E. P. Thomas, Hartford; Dr. Robt. Baird and Mr. Harry Bridges, Louisville, and Mr. R. C. Hardwick, Owensboro, form a fishing party who are spending this week at Mr. Ford's camp down on Rough river.

Circuit Judge Slack will come to Hartford next week to hold a special term of the Ohio Circuit Court, for the trial of equity actions. Judge Slack called the special term at the close of the last regular session of the court here. No jury will be used during this term.

The Free Health Exhibit Car of the Kentucky Tuberculosis Commission was in Hartford Monday and yesterday, affording demonstrations for the public. Mr. Severance, the man in charge, delivered a free lecture at the court house Monday night. It was very good.

Messrs. Ernest Howell and W. B. Miller, deputy sheriffs of Daviess county, brought Joe Early over here Monday. The latter had been in jail at Owensboro for some time and when he was released he was brought here on a warrant from this county. He is charged with house-breaking.

Quite a large crowd attended the Knights of Pythias decoration services at Oakwood Sunday afternoon. Sweet songs were sung and Miss Winnie Simmerman read "Crossing the Bar." Judge Glenn delivered a short but very touching oration. It was beautiful in its pathos and feeling rendered.

Mr. J. C. Feller, president of the Chrisney, Ind., State Bank, was here Monday and bought the W. H. Williams and J. W. Mercer tracts of land lying on Muddy creek, near Beaver Dam, on the G. A. Barnes ditch, which was sold for drainage tax. The Williams land brought $500 and the Mercer tract $300.

The series of meetings at the Christian church here, conducted by the pastor, Rev. S. E. Harlan, closed last Thursday night. There were six additions to the church by baptism and spiritual affairs were much uplifted by the meeting. The rite of baptism was administered to the six converts at the close of the services Thursday night in the church baptistry.

In this issue will be found the statements of conditions of five Ohio county banks—Farmers Bank of Centertown, Bank of Fordsville, Citizens Bank of Hartford, Beaver Dam Deposit Bank and Bank of Hartford. They all make a splendid showing which evinces careful and conservative management. They are worthy the patronage of the public and are receiving it.

In County Judge Wilson's court here last Friday, Will Langford, white, of Simmons, Ky., who has been in jail here about two months, charged with bootlegging, pleaded guilty to furnishing a minor liquor and was fined $50. He also acknowledged to selling liquor and was fined $60 and given 20 days in jail. Four cases of like nature against him were filed away.

of introduction, may have a free thirty-day membership ticket in any of the city associations where in the young men expect to make their future home. For further particulars we refer inquiring young men to Mr. Fogle.

Garland Sherley, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Loney Hoover, city, died Monday evening about six o'clock after a two-weeks illness of cholera infantum which developed into meningitis. The funeral will occur this forenoon with burial at Oakwood. Sherley was a bright little fellow and the treasure of his parents and grandparents. Being an only child and grandchild, his death is exceptionally sad and his absence will be keenly felt.

The following parties left yesterday to join the tour of inspection of County Farm Agents and farmers through Eastern Kentucky, starting from Lexington: Ohio County Farm Agent W. W. Browder, Hartford; Albert Cox, Dundee; Nat Lindley, Worth Bell, Point Pleasant; L. E. Everly, Matanzas; Oppie Kittinger, Smallhouse. These are among Ohio county's most representative farmers and business men, with progressive ideas and wanting to know more about farming.

WORTHY CITIZEN PASSES TO HIS ETERNAL REST

Mr. F. W. Pirtle, one of Ohio county's oldest and most highly respected citizens, died at his residence four miles north-east of Hartford last Thursday forenoon. He had been ill for quite awhile of a peculiar heart trouble, which involved faulty circulation, also hardening of the arteries.

Mr. Pirtle was born in Washington county, Ky., and was in his 81st year at the time of his death. When about 12 years old he moved with his parents to this county, where he had resided ever since. His father, Mr. John Pirtle, was a local Methodist preacher and one of Ohio county's pioneer school teachers.

Mr. Pirtle first married Miss Elizabeth Renfrow, to which union were born twelve children—six boys and six girls—eleven of whom lived to reach the years of maturity. Those who survive are: Mrs. J. A. Duke, Hartford; J. E. Pirtle, Versailles, Ky.; Mrs. Frank Hayes, Whitesville; Dr. J. R. Pirtle, Hartford; Mrs. R. D. Nelson, Bandana, Ky.; Mrs. Dr. McDowell and Mrs. Dr. J. D. Stewart, Dundee; R. L. Pirtle, Owensboro; H. M. Pirtle, and Mrs. T. P. Carson, Hartford. Mr. Pirtle's second marriage, to Mrs. Ann Felix, took place about 7 years ago, his former wife having died two or three years prior to that date. The latter Mrs. Pirtle, together with one brother of the deceased, A. R. Pirtle, of Owensboro, and two half-brothers, T. C. and George Pirtle, of this county, also survive.

Mr. Pirtle was a Christian gentleman in every respect, having been a member of the Methodist Church from an early age until his death. He was a good citizen, full of good works and worthy accomplishments. He was identified with progressive movements and was always interested in affairs that would help his fellowmen.

The funeral of Mr. Pirtle occurred at the home place, Friday morning at 10 o'clock, services being conducted by his pastor, Rev. B. W. Napier. Beautiful songs were rendered by the choir of the Hartford Methodist Church. Interment was at Oakwood cemetery, Hartford. A good man has gone to the reward of the true and faithful.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL IS SET BACK SECOND TIME

On June 1st the Kentucky Court of Appeals affirmed a judgment of the Ohio Circuit Court in the case of Illinois Central R. Co. vs. Warren Evans. Evans was injured on June 13, 1914, while in the employ of the Illinois Central Railroad Company as section foreman. He filed suit in the Ohio Circuit Court seeking to recover judgment for his injuries. A trial was had which resulted in a judgment of $1,000. The defendant company was not satisfied with this judgment and filed motion for a new trial, which was granted. The case was again tried at the February, 1915, term of the Ohio Circuit Court, and judgment rendered in favor of plaintiff for $5,000. From that judgment the defendant appealed to the Court of Appeals where judgment was affirmed.

This case has created a good deal of interest on account of the difference in the amount of the judgments rendered. It appeared from the evidence that between the first trial and the second the plaintiff's injuries had developed to such an extent as to show him to be permanently injured, causing a much larger verdict than the first. It will now cost the company more than $6,000 to pay this judgment. We understand that the plaintiff is in a precarious condition and perhaps will never recover. The amount he will receive in this case is small compared with the injury received.

Plaintiff was represented by Heavrin & Kirk, attorneys of Hartford, and the defendant by H. P. Taylor, local attorney of Hartford, and R. V. Fletcher, of Chicago; Trabue, Doolin & Cox, S. L. Barber and J. Blakey Helm, attorneys of Louisville.

WORK AT DAM DEPENDS ON ACTION OF CONGRESS

Beginning July 1 operations will be indefinitely suspended on Ohio River dam No. 43, several miles below West Point, Ky., unless Congress passes the Rivers and Harbors Bill before June 30 and makes sufficient appropriation to continue the work.

Maj. John C. Oakes, chief of the Government engineers in that district, said that with the money remaining of the appropriation for dam 43 it will be possible only to buy supplies to the end of the present fiscal year, and orders for additional supplies have been canceled. Employed at the dam are 400 men, including the Government engineers.

COURT HOUSE GLEANINGS.

County Court convened in regular session Monday morning with Judge Wilson presiding. Petitions for the establishment of the DuPont Highway and a change in the Owensboro and Leitchfield road near Fordsville were filed. The wills of F. W. Pirtle and Alex Maddox were probated. Quarterly Court also convened Monday. Enough cases are on docket to consume two or three days. Up to press hour the following cases had been tried: Com'th. vs. Agnes Brookins, breach of the peace—dismissed by court. Com'th. vs. Mary Laura Griffin, same offense—verdict of jury, not guilty. Com'th. vs. Robert Marks, breach of peace—plea of guilty and fined $5 and costs. T. W. Wallace vs. L. H. Hines, suit on breach of warranty on sale of horse—verdict of jury, $19.75 for plaintiff.

The case of the Com'th. vs. Walter McConnell, Justice McConnell, Barney Ball, Gollie Givens, Harry Taylor, Andrew Raymer, Gilbert Baize and Ransack Baize—all boys living at Simmons, this county—charged with petit larceny, was transferred to the Juvenile Court and most of yesterday was consumed in this hearing, Judge Wilson sitting as Judge of the Juvenile Court. The case was yet on trial at hour of going to press.
